Buying and Selling Your Home For Dummies, Australian Edition

Karin Derkley

Buying a home is the biggest financial transaction most people ever make, and buying an investment property is an increasingly popular wealth-creation strategy.

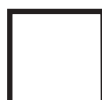

Buying and Selling Your Home For Dummies discusses timing the market, working out how much you can afford, choosing the best location, renovating or buying off the plan, building a home, getting the best finance, purchase methods, working out when to sell, presenting your property for sale and working with real estate agents and other professionals.

Local writer Karin Derkley was a senior writer and then deputy editor at Personal Investor magazine.

Ebay For Dummies, Australian Edition

Bruce Mundy, Marsha Collier

eBay For Dummies covers all aspects of the online marketplace, starting with basics such as signing up, exploring the home page, and setting up your own eBay page and preferences. It then moves onto buying and selling tactics, including finding the item you're looking for, winning at auction, finalising the sale, positioning your products for sale, creating a virtual storefront and completing the cyber paperwork. Privacy, the rules of eBay and the etiquette of online behaviour are also covered.

Local writer Bruce Munday runs a successful eBay business and is an eBay educator, running specialist education programs. He is also the CEO at Paintright.

Power of Property

Securing Your Future Through Real Estate

Karina Barrymoore, Bruce Brammall

Written in a punchy journalistic style, The Power of Property covers both the reasons to invest in property and the practical aspects of how to invest in property. The Power of Property will also touch on the key topics of first home purchase, commercial property investments and international property investment. Highlighted through the book will be “Fast Facts”; “Pitfalls to avoid” and handy rules of thumb and formulas to guide readers. You will learn about property investment from inspirational case studies that are based on real life.

Karina Barrymore has twenty years experience as a daily finance journalist and is currently personal investment editor of the “Your Money” section in the Herald-Sun.

Co-author Bruce Brammall is business writer at the Herald Sun, Australia’s top selling newspaper and has been deputy editor of the paper’s Business Daily section for three years.

Rethink!

Edward De Bono in Australia

Leo D'Angelo Fisher

Dr Edward de Bono, founder of lateral thinking, has changed the way countless Australians – young and old – think. Rethink explores how de Bono’s unique thinking tools and training courses have influenced Australian businesses, organisations, schools and communities. A passionate advocate for transformational change in education, the book also looks at de Bono’s influence on the Australian education system. Both biographical and instructive Rethink shows de Bono’s fondness for, and contribution to, Australia - he has been a regular visitor since 1972. It also includes details on the work of the de Bono Institute, the Melbourne-based not-for-profit group that represents Edward de Bono in Australia. Rethink demonstrates how de Bono’s tools and techniques can be used to:

- * generate creativity, fresh new ideas and better solutions
- * increase productivity
- * encourage teamwork and dispute resolution
- * improve effectiveness of meetings.

Leader's Legacy

James Kouzes, Barry Posner

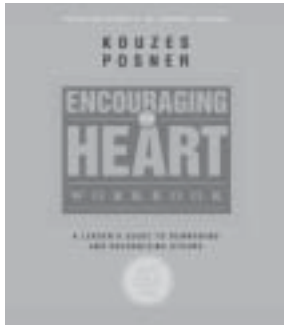

In this provocative book, leadership experts and authors of the best-selling The Leadership Challenge, Jim Kouzes and Barry Posner take on a unique challenge and explore the question of leadership and legacy.

Kouzes and Posner examine in twenty-two chapters the critical questions all leaders must ask themselves in order to leave a lasting impact. These powerful essays are grouped into four categories: Significance, Relationships, Aspirations, and Courage. In each essay the authors consider a thorny and often ambiguous issue with which today's leaders must grapple issues—such as how leaders serve and sacrifice, why leaders need loving critics, why leaders should want to be liked, why leaders can't take trust for granted, why it's not just the leader's vision, why failure is always an option, and ultimately, how the legacy you leave is the life you lead.

Encouraging the Heart Workbook

A Leader's Guide to Rewarding and Recognizing Others

James Kouzes, Barry Posner

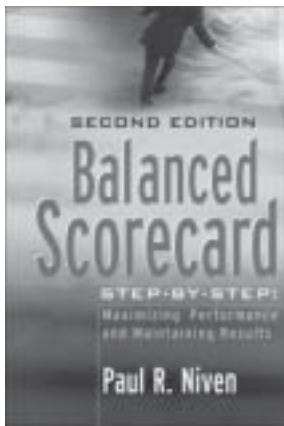

A hands-on guide to helping leaders inspire others with courage and hope.

The research conducted by Jim Kouzes and Barry Posner over the last two decades clearly shows that successful leaders find ways to combat these negative feelings by encouraging the hearts of their team members. This workbook, based on the model presented in the bestselling book Encouraging the Heart, guides readers through seven essentials of encouraging the heart: set clear standards, expect the best, pay attention, personalise recognition, tell the story, celebrate together, and set the example.

Gold

The Once and Future Money

Addison Wiggin, Justice Litle

Many view the current bull market in gold as a flash in the pan, doomed to fizzle. "Au contraire," say bestselling author Addison Wiggin and award-winning analyst Justice Litle. In this explosive new book, Wiggin and Litle tackle the assertion that gold is but a "barbarous relic" head on. In so doing, they offer one of the most intelligent arguments currently available on why the bull market could take gold well beyond $2,000 an ounce – four times today's price.

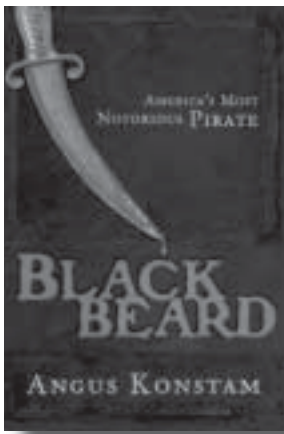

Unlike other books that rely heavily on abstractions and theory, this invaluable resource provides readers with an entertaining, easy-to-read strategy for building a fortress of impervious wealth.

Blackbeard

America's Most Notorious Pirate

Angus Konstam

Blackbeard was the most fearsome pirate of his day – a man who terrorized the Caribbean and the Spanish Main, who dared to blockade Charleston, South Carolina, and who became, as a result, the most famous pirate of all.

Drawing on the latest historical and archaeological findings – including the discovery of Blackbeard's flagship – Angus Konstam has produced the definitive biography of Blackbeard, from his pirate apprenticeship in the Caribbean to his gory death in a sea battle fought off North Carolina's Outer Banks. For anyone who enjoyed Under the Black Flag or The Pirate Hunter, this book will definitely be required reading.

History

Between Salt Water And Holy Water

A History of Southern Italy

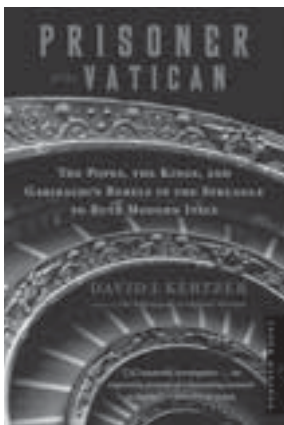

Tommaso Astarita

The history of southern Italy is entirely distinct from that of northern Italy, yet it has never been given its own historical due. From the Normans and Angevins, through Spanish and Bourbon rule, to the unification of Italy in 1860, Astarita rescues the South from the dustier folds of history and restores it to sparkling life. We are introduced to the freethinking, cosmopolitan King Frederick, who conferred with Jewish and Muslim philosophers; to Masaniello, "the fisherman of Naples," who inspired artists and revolutionaries across Europe; and to the colourful religious observances, diverse population, ancient ruins, beautiful landscapes, sweet music, and magnificent art—all of which inspired visitors to claim that one had to "see Naples, and then die."

Prisoner of the Vatican

The Popes, the Kings, and Garibaldi's Rebels in the Struggle to Rule Modern Italy

David Kertzer

When Italy's armies seized the Holy City and claimed it for the Italian capital, Pope Pius IX, outraged, retreated to the Vatican and declared himself a prisoner, calling on foreign powers to force the Italians out of Rome. The action set in motion decades of political intrigues that hinged on such fascinating characters as Garibaldi, King Viktor Emmanuel, Napoleon III, and Chancellor Bismarck. No one who reads this eye-opening book will ever think of Italy, or the Vatican, in quite the same way again.

Triumph of Numbers

How Counting Shaped Modern Life

I. B. Cohen

The great historian of science I. B. Cohen explores how numbers have come to assume a leading role in science, in the operations and structure of government, in marketing, and in many other aspects of daily life.

Consulting and collecting numbers has been a feature of human affairs since antiquity—taxes, head counts for military service—but not until the Scientific Revolution in the twelfth century did social numbers such as births, deaths, and marriages begin to be analyzed. Cohen shines a new light on familiar figures such as Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin, and Charles Dickens; and he reveals Florence Nightingale to be a passionate statistician. Cohen has left us with an engaging and accessible history of numbers, an appreciation of the essential nature of statistics.

Oak

Frame of Civilization

William Logan

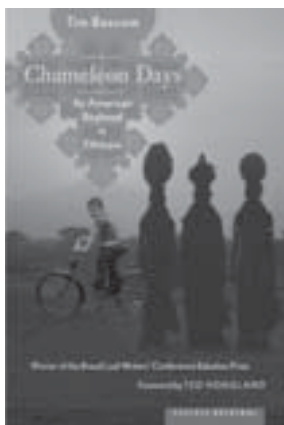

Professional arborist and award-winning nature writer William Bryant Logan deftly relates the delightful history of the reciprocal relationship between humans and oak trees since time immemorial—a profound link that has almost been forgotten.

From the ink of Bach's cantatas, to the first boat to reach the New World, to the wagon, the barrel, and the sword, oak trees have been a constant presence throughout our history. In fact, civilization prospered where oaks grew, and for centuries these supremely adaptable, generous trees have supported humankind in nearly every facet of life.

Chameleon Days

An American Boyhood in Ethiopia

Tim Bascom

In 1964, at the age of three, Tim Bascom is thrust into a world of eucalyptus trees and stampeding baboons when his family moves from the Midwest to Ethiopia.

The unflinchingly observant narrator of this memoir reveals his missionary parents' struggles in a sometimes hostile country. Sent reluctantly to boarding school in the capital, young Tim finds that beyond the gates enclosing that peculiar, isolated world, conflict roils Ethiopian society. When secret riot drills at school are followed with an attack by rampaging students near his parents' mission station, Tim witnesses the disintegration of his family's African idyll as Haile Selassie's empire begins to crumble.

Biography

Easter Rising

An Irish American Coming Up From Under

Michael Patrick MacDonald

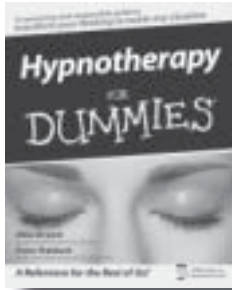

This utterly unconventional narrative of reinvention begins with the young MacDonald's first forays outside the soul-crushing walls of Southie's Old Colony housing project. In greater Boston and eventually New York's East Village, he becomes part of the club scene swirling around Mission of Burma, the Clash, Johnny Rotten, and the Beastie Boys. MacDonald provides one-of-a-kind 1980s social history and a powerful glimpse of what punk music was for him: a lifesaving form of subversion and self-education.

Triathloning for Ordinary Mortals

And Doing the Duathlon Too, Second Edition

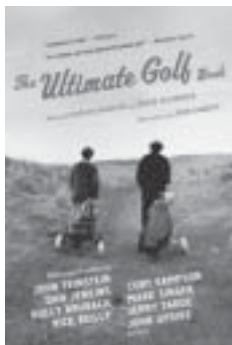

Steven Jonas

This book was first published twenty years ago in the early days of the sport. It has continued to sell to beginners and recreational multisport athletes by showing them how, starting as a fitness novice, they can cross the finish line happily and healthily, and have fun doing so, without turning their lives upside down along the way. Steven Jonas, a former nonathlete who began racing in middle age, now has over 160 multisport races—and two decades' worth of evidence that his training program works—to his credit.
